- 25X1 1. Many Koreans in Manchuria did not return to Korea on the December 1946 repatriation ship, because the rice harvest in Manchuria had been good and because the Chinese authorities had promised to give them assistance and the opportunity to raise crops.
- 25X1 2. However, the Chinese authorities have done nothing to help the Koreans in Manchuria this year. As a result, the economic condition of most of the Koreans in Manchuria is bad.

3. In the Mukden, Anshan (122-57, 41-08), Kaiyuan (124-01, 42-33) and Fushun (123-54, 41-53) areas alone, there are approximately 20,000 Koreans who wish to be repatriated.
4. Of these 20,000 Koreans, there are 8,080 residents of Mukden, approximately 4,000 farmers in the Anshan area, approximately 2,920 farmers in the Kaiyuan area, and approximately 5,000 farmers in the area between Mukden and Fushun. All of these 20,000 Koreans are in areas from which they can easily be concentrated in Mukden for repatriation.
5. There are 8,080 Koreans in Mukden who wish to be repatriated. Of this number, 4,195 are males, of whom 2,798 are over the age of eighteen; 3,885 are females, of whom 2,602 are over the age of eighteen.
